FEO Voter Survey

15 September 2020 - 31 October 2020

► FEO Launches Nationwide Voter Survey

The Fijian Elections Office [“FEO”] launched its nationwide Voter Survey on 15 September 2020.

This is the first time that an Election Management Body in Fiji is conducting a survey to reach out to its main stakeholders and find out their views and expectations on elections.

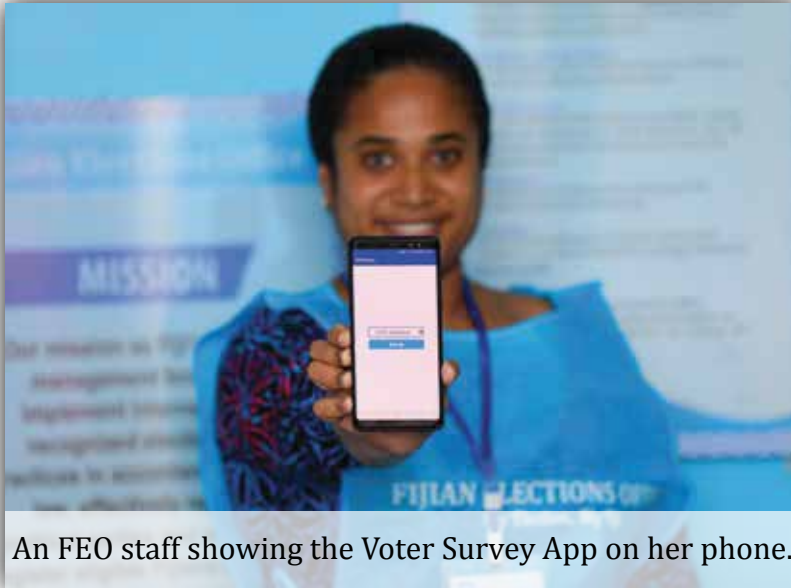

Supervisor of Elections, Mr Mohammed Saneem, said the Voter Survey will measure public knowledge and attitude towards voting and elections and will seek feedback from voters on their experience voting in the 2018 General Election.

“This survey will provide a more comprehensive understanding of voter turnout in the Fijian context and findings will help the FEO in enhancing its services and developing more effective and targeted strategies for the 2022 General Election,” Mr Saneem said.

The FEO engaged its internal staff to conduct the survey in the Central Division while close to 200 external staff were hired to carry out the survey in the Western, Eastern and Northern Divisions.

The nationwide Voter Survey concludes on 31 October 2020.

A Voter Survey App has been specifically developed for conducting the FEO's nationwide Voter Survey.

The App that took close to three [3] months to develop, requires the voter to enter his or her EVR number to submit a response.

The App generates questions relevant to the voter depending on whether the person voted on Election Day, did not vote or if he or she was a Postal Voter.

Voters urged to carry VoterCards

With the nationwide Voter Survey currently underway, Fijians are urged to carry their VoterCards as the FEO survey teams are moving around and voters will need their EVR number to participate.

The FEO will be giving away merchandise at the end of the project so registered voters are encouraged to take part in the survey and be in the draw to win some prizes.

FEO marks International Day of Democracy

The FEO commemorated the International Day of Democracy ["IDD"] this year by holding a marathon quiz competition.

Supervisor of Elections, Mr Mohammed Saneem, said it was the first time for the FEO to commemorate the international observance event on a large scale.

"Seeing the success of this quiz competition, we are definitely planning to make this an annual event," Mr Saneem said.

The marathon quiz was conducted online on 14 September 2020 with a total of 77 teams competing against each other for the prizes.
